About the Webinar

Throughout the course of history, disease outbreaks have ravaged humanity, sometimes changing the course of history and, at times, signaling the end of civilizations. In the realm of infectious disease, a pandemic is the worst case scenario. When an epidemic spreads beyond a country's borders, that's the disease officially becomes a pandemic. The more civilized humans became building cities and forging trade routes to connect with other cities, and waging wars with them, the more likely pandemics became. What were the causes of spread the diseases from one place to another place, and what were the impact of the crisis would be discuss in the historical outline in two days webinar.
